"There's something behind it." That's what you think, perhaps, when you read that the proprietors of Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy offer $500 reward for an incurable case of Catarrh. Rather unusual, you think, to find the makers of a medicine trying to prove that they be-lieve in it. "There must be something back of it!"

But it's a plain, square offer, made in good faith. The only thing that's back of it is the Remedy. It cures Catarrh in the Head. To its mild, soothing, cleansing and healing properties, the worst cases yield, no matter how bad or of how long standing. It has a record that goes back for 25 years. It doesn't simply relieve - it perfectly and permanently cures. With a Remedy like this, the proprietors can make such an offer and mean it. To be sure there's risk in it, but it's so very small that they are willing to take it.

You've "never heard of anything like this offer?" True enough. But then you've never heard of anything like Dr. Sage's Remedy.

THE EUROPEAN HEGIRA.

It is estimated than an hundred thousand Americans will go to Europe next year. When it is considered that they will spend not less than $1,000 each some idea can be obtained of the enormous drain that this exodus year after year occasions this country. This sum goes out, too, not for goods, but is so much of our surplus wasted in luxury. No other country could stand it for a year. The compensation comes, we suppose, in the new ideas that they pick up and bring back with them. There is one thing that they cannot find in any part of Europe and that is a remedy for coughs, colds and all maladies that affect the lungs that equals Reid's German Cough and Kidney Cure. This great preparation has no equal in the world for diseases that affect the respiratory organs. It contains no opiate, thus making it a family remedy in which every mother can put the utmost confidence. SYLVAN REMEDY CO., Peoria, III.

From his induction to the episcopate he has been conspicuous in the councils of the Catholic church. In 1852 he attended the first plenary council of Baltimore, where he took high rank in the deliberations of that august body. He was one of the most influential members of the second ple-nary council of Baltimore in 1896. The mass was announced to begin at a. m., but some delay was occasioned by the late arrival of Cardinal Gibbon and Archbishop Kenrick, and it was 10 o'clock when the cavalcade from the archiepiscopal residence appeared. AN AWFUL PICTURE. Three Million Russians Actually Dying o

Paris, Dec. L-A diplomatic com nunication from Russia which I saw yesterday morning brings terrible news. Over 3,000,000 human beings are literally dying of hunger. In some of the Russian provinces bordering on the Volga the people are keeping themselves alive by eating the bark of trees. This awful state or uning aggravated by the blundering methods of the Russian administration. For instance, a few weeks before the issue of the uning the uning of the jubilee mass was given on a grand scale. The mass selected for the occasion was Gounod's "Messe Solemnell de Sainte Cecile." It was rendered by fifty trained voices ander the direction of Mr. Joseph Otten, accompanied by an orchestra of thirty-six pieces and the organ. The thirty-six pieces and the organ. DISINHERITED.

Malcolm Ford, the Athlete, Not Even Mentioned in His Millionaire Father's Will.

New York, Dec. 1.—The will of the ate Gordon Lester Ford, of Brooklyn, filed yesterday, bequeaths an estate valued at $1,500,000 to the widow and two sons-Worthington Ford and Paul Ford-with some minor legacies to more distant relatives. The name of the testator's son, Malcolm W. Ford, the famous all-around athlete, is not mentioned in the will.

Malcolm had incurred his father's displeasure by devoting himself to sports, and was not regarded as a member of the family. His father refused for years even to speak to him, but a reconciliation was effected at the time of Malcolm's illness, which was thought likely to prove fatal. It seems, owever, that the old gentleman did not relent sufficiently to make his athlete son one of his heirs. It is believed that the disinherited son will contest the will.

A GREAT mistake perhaps was made when Dr Sherman named his great remedy Prickly Ash Birrins; but it is presumed that at that time all remedies for the blood, etc., were called Bitters. Had he called it Prickly Ash "Regulator," "Curative," or almost anything but Bitters it undoubtedly would have superseled all other preparations of similar character.
